Calley wins parole, new bail hearing

COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP) — Former Army Lt. William L. Calley, the only person convicted in connection with the My Lai massacre, appears in federal court for a bail hearing today, his days as a prisoner apparently numbered.

In unexpected back-to-back developments Friday, the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals ordered Calley freed on bail and Army Secretary Howard "Bo" Callaway announced he was paroling Calley effective Nov. 19.

U.S. District Court Judge J. Robert Elliott of Columbus, who overturned Calley's courtmartial conviction Sept. 25, scheduled bail proceedings for 11 a.m. today.

Except for three months when he was free on bail earlier this year, Calley has released in Washington that he signed the parole order on Oct. 30. It cannot take effect until Nov. 19 when Calley has served one-third of his 10-year prison sentence.

The statement said Callaway made his parole decision "based on a thorough review of Calley's application for parole and the recommendation of officials at the U.S. Army Disciplinary Barracks and the Army and Air Force

Miners prepare for coal strike

WASHINGTON (AP) - Negotiators report progress toward a new coal industry contract, but across the country the mines prepared for at least a two-week strike.

The majority of the United Mine Workers' 120,000 members finished work Friday and were not expected back because most mines don't operate over the weekend and next Monday is a miners' holiday.

The strike will begin officially at 12:01 a.m. Tuesday when the current UMW contract runs out. Even if a settlement can be reached over the weekend, the union's complex ratification process requires about 10

UMW President Arnold Miller, who has ruled out extending the contract, said he would return to the bargaining table today with his union's response to the industry's latest contract offer.

Elections panel delays probes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) - Complaints that both major parties violated Ohio election laws have been put aside pending answers to some procedural questions

The five-member Ohio Elections Commission said it probably will act at its next meeting Nov. 22 on charges against the Rhodes for Governor Committee, Ohioans for Gilligan, and the Ohio Democratic Party.

Among other things, the commission still is awaiting a supplemental attorney general's opinion assuring it has jurisdiction over a Rhodes fundraising brunch that occurred more than a year ago. The commission didn't come into being until July of this year.

State Sen. Tony P. Hall, D-6 Dayton, charged in an affidavit that the Rhodes for Governor Committee broke the law that mandates the listing by name of all contributors in excess of $25.

The brunch netted about $158,000, but Gordon Peltier, chairman of the Rhodes' committee, said the money came from sales of individual tickets at $25 each and therefore broke no law. The attorney general's office said in

Anderson and Peyser contended Tuesday's elections showed a similar shift and that the country wants moderate programs, particularly to solve urban problems.

County board reviews defeat of two issues have discussed the results of last Tuesday's election and Superintendent Foster said. Guy M. Foster reported that there was general disappointment over the failure of the three-mill additional operating levy and the bond issue for the construction of a new junior high school building.

A complete review of the election results will be conducted at the next regular meeting of the Fayette County Board of Education scheduled Nov. 19. Foster said although both issues were equally important to a different aspect of the total school community, the more immediate question rests with the need of increased operational funds, especially for improved salaries and wages.

Foster said the board members will possibly consider a move to place an operating levy on the ballot again.

"Although the results of the election were damaging to the efforts to improve the Miami Trace school system, Members of the Fayette County many, many people did support the Board of Education and administrators issues. Various groups and individuals in the Miami Trace School District contributed dollars and or man hours to sell the community on better schools,"

"The need was there and lots of people really gave top priority to education," he said. "To all those who carried the message and to those who voted favorably, the board of education and administration expresses their appreciation," Foster said.

Foster said he felt "that everyone should take a more serious look at the schools and resolve to improve the weak areas even to the extent of paying the bill when that is the answer.

dsmen leaves some questions

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) - Eight former Ohio National Guardsmen have been freed of charges of civil rights violations stemming from the 1970 Kent State University shootings.

U.S. District Judge Frank J. Battisti granted a defense motion for a judgment of acquittal Friday, ruling that evidence presented by the government was not sufficient to support charges in an indictment returned by a federal grand jury last March 29.

However, he said state officials may wish to pursue criminal charges in the

Four students were killed and nine others wounded May 4, 1970, by a 13second burst of gunfire during a confrontation between National Guard troops and students protesting U.S. military involvement in Cambodia.

Battisti's ruling ended abruptly a trial that started Oct. 21 and was expected to last six to eight weeks.

In his written opinion, the judge said, "It is entirely possible that state officials may yet wish to pursue criminal prosecutions against various persons responsible for events at Kent State. This opinion does not pass on the propriety of such prosecutions, if any."

Ohio Atty. Gen. William J. Brown would not speculate on the possibility of the state undertaking any criminal prosecution.

"I don't know what he's talking about," Brown said in commenting on the judge's opinion. "I'd have to read the statement in its totality. After all, we've just defended them.

Guardsmen were exonerated by a special state grand jury that investigated the shootings four years ago. It indicted 25 other persons, including Kent State students and former students. The charges were dropped a year later.

The state grand jury said it found that guardsmen had reason to believe their lives were in danger from rockthrowing antiwar demonstrators when they began shooting.

The eight former guardsmen were charged in the federal indictment with wilfully assaulting and intimidating the shooting victims and others by firing weapons in their direction and with depriving them of their right against loss of liberty without due process of

Judge Battisti ruled that "based upon the evidence offered the court, reasonable jurors must find that there is a reasonable doubt as to whether these eight defendants were possessed of a specific intention to deprive the students of Kent State set forth in the indictment of their constitutional and federal rights at the time they discharged their weapons.'

Robert A. Murphy, head of the civil rights section of the Justice Depart- of the defendants, or other guardsmen, ment's Criminal Division and the chief prosecuting attorney, said he planned no further action in the case. "As far as I'm concerned, it's all over," he said. Murphy said he was "not over-commenting on the acquittal, "We expected it, now or eventually." Others on trial were James D. McGee, 28, and Lawrence A. Shafer, 28, both of Ravenna; Ralph W. Zoller, 27, were justified in discharging their weapons ..." Battisti said.

"Very different considerations would obtain if this were a trial of these eight guardsmen in state court on charges, for example, of shooting with intent to injure or maim. In that situation, the issues of justification, of the possible excessiveness of the force used, of provocation, of self defense - might be relevant to the offense charged.

The judge said, "It must be clearly understood that the conduct of both the guardsmen who fired and of the guard and state officials who placed their guardsmen in the situation noted ... is neither approved nor vindicated by this

Man hires 'wife' for self at rate of $500 per month

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Two years ago, Edmund L. Van Deusen, a grandfather, found himself divorced and lonely, but unwilling to marry again. So he hired a "wife.

Elaine Peterson, 35, answered Van Deusen's newspaper ad asking for a woman to live with him as an informal wife for $500 a month

The 50-year-old chemist and Ms. Peterson, who said she had been living outdoors the past six years and welcomed the chance to spend the coming winter in out of the rain, are still together. And Van Deusen says he and his "hired" wife "feel very good about each other."

Ms. Peterson agreed enthusiastically, "It's really sexy."

Van Deusen said in an interview this week that after his 26-year marriage he decided to go solo "unsuppressed by togetherness and by love possessed" or by anyone possessed.

He said he found brief love affairs with intermittent periods of loneliness too much to bear, and he struck on the idea of hiring a "wife" he could shed without government interference. He put an ad in a Los Angeles underground

Before setting out on their unconventional conjugal life, Van Deusen and Ms. Peterson signed documents spelling out the duties of both parties: for Van Deusen, the compensation and all other requirements of an employer; for Ms. Peterson — who prefers the Ms. designation — the requirements of the bedroom and the kitchen, in that order.

The document also outlines Ms. Peterson's "duty hours," "days off," and "vacation" time.

"In the last couple of years we've shipped everything we got our hands on but this year orders are behind 25 to 30 per cent. "Retailers are going to dump this Christmas. There'll be heavy promotion and price slashing," says a leading retailer, "We can't afford to keep inventories at present prime rate levels and we don't want heavy inventories on highpriced goods with prices starting to come down on raw

Another reason to clear out 1974 bikes by the first of the new year, say retailers, is to stock up on bikes made to meet new federal safety standards.

Under the new regulations, all bikes sold in the United States by May 1, 1975 must have 16 reflectors—among them are four on the pedals, two-sided reflectors on the spokes of each wheel and reflectory tires to give motorists the whole outline of a bike at night. Bike brakes must make prescribed stops at certain speeds and nothing on the bike can extend five inches above

The slump in bike sales comes after several years of fast-increasing sales after adults in large numbers started taking to the road on two wheels.

Leisure time and health concerns helped send annual bike sales from 9 million in 1971 to a high of 15.5 million in 1973 when the energy crisis sparked the greatest surge of adult riders in the industry's history.

U.S. shuns Cuban debate

QUITO, Ecuador (AP) — The United States is trying hard to remain aloof from the debate of Latin American foreign ministers on whether to lift the 10-year-old diplomatic and economic sanctions against Cuba.

Foreign ministers at the Organization of American States conference which began here Friday said a resolution calling for lifting the sanctions already has the support of 13 of the 21 voting nations - one short of the necessary two-thirds vote of 14.

Informed conference sources said

U.S. strategy is to avoid the slightest appearance of influencing the vote. They said the United States probably will abstain from voting in the belief that either a yes or no vote would antagonize a number of OAS members.

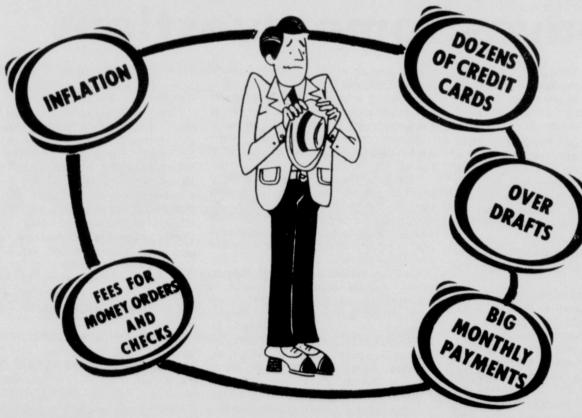

U.S. Undersecretary of State Robert Ingersoll said only, "I can assure you that the United States delegation comes to this meeting with a very constructive spirit...It would be premature for me to discuss the voting position with these deliberations before us.'

Find food stamps

By DON KENDALL AP Farm Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) - A study by the Agriculture Department shows that low-income families frequently buy more meat, particularly beef, when government food stamps are made available to them.

But the study, published Monday by the department's Economic Research Service, said the larger consumption by food stamp families has not resulted in significantly higher meat prices.

"Since 1969, the expanded issuance of food stamps has enabled low-income families to spend more than they would otherwise spend for red meats," the report said.

"Bonus stamps, however, do not account for any major portion of the total increase in total consumer expenditures for meat. Generally rising incomes and inflation are the primary sources of pressure on meat prices,' the report said.

Under the food stamp program, a low-income family can get a monthly allotment of coupons to help meet its grocery costs. The amount it pays for the stamps is based on the family's

If a four-member household, for example, has a net income of less than $30 per month it can get $150 worth of food stamps free of charge. But as the family's income rises, the amount it is required to pay also increases so that by the time net earnings are $450 a month the required payment goes up to

$126 for $150 worth of food stamps. The difference between what a person has to pay to get food stamps and the total value of the coupons is the "bonus" value contributed by the federal government. In its report, USDA said that for each used for meat $1 in bonus stamps provided low-income families an average of 15.2

cents went to buy additional red meat.

Of that, beef accounted for 9.5 cents. The report said U.S. consumers spent about $22 billion for beef in 1972, a gain of $2.8 billion from the previous year. The added impact from food stamps in 1972 was $187.9 million or less than one per cent of total beef spending that

"Findings from earlier surveys indicated that new participants in the food stamp program used substantial portions of their expanded buying power in increasing purchases of red meats, particularly ground beef and lower-cost beef cuts," the report said. "To a lesser degree, bakery products, fruits and vegetables claimed addi-

Previous records were shattered as total cash receipts from farming shot up 44 per cent in Ohio to $2.27 billion and soybeans took over undisputed first place as the top income source.

These facts are revealed in a new publication, "1973 Ohio Farm Income," just released by the Department of Agricultural Economics and Rural Sociology of the Ohio State University and the Ohio Agricultural Research and Development Center in cooperation with the USDA Statistical Reporting Service.

Total sales of crops in Ohio last year were just under $1.2 billion, up 67 per cent from the ear earlier. Crop receipts accounted for 52.8 per cent of the 1973 total. Sale of livestock and livestock products made up 47.2 per cent of marketing receipts totalling just under

Cash receipts for soybeans in 1973 soared to $547.5 million, up 110 per cent from the previous year, making the important protein crop the largest single source of farm income.

Cash receipts from corn rose 85 per cent to $335.5 million, ranking third among all commodities in importance. Most other crops also showed increases

The sale of cattle and calves returned $338.6 million to Ohio farmers and ranked second. Dairy products, previously the top money earner in Ohio, dropped to fourth place in 1973, totalling $311.6 million.

Other top commodities in terms of total cash receipts were hogs, at $268.4 million, and poultry and eggs, at $129.8

Darke County again led in total cash receipts from farming with $83 million this compared to marketings of $54 million in 1972. The next four highest counties were Mercer, Fulton, Wood, and Wayne - each topping the $56 million mark in cash receipts.

Leading counties by agricultural commodities were: soybeans, Darke; cattle and calves, Fulton; corn, Wood; dairy products, Wayne; hogs, Clinton; poultry and eggs, Mercer; wheat, Wood; vegetables, Lorain; greenhouse and nursery crops, Lake.

Soybeans were the top commodity in 39 of Ohio's 88 counties; cattle yielded the most receipts in 24 counties; and dairying was most important in 16

It should be emphasized that cash receipts do not include the value of commodities used on farms. For example, much of the state's corn and forage production is fed to livestock and marketed in the form of beef or milk. The value of home consumption of farm commodities in 1973 is estimated at $32.3 million.

Cash receipts represent gross returns from actual sale of crops and livestock during the calendar year.

Last year also saw increases in production expenses ($1.8 million compared to $1.5 million in 1972). It still added up to a good year for Ohio farmers as realized net farm income more than doubled from $403.8 million to $811

Saxbe on fair trade laws

It would be pleasant to think that Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe's attack on so-called fair trade laws sounded the death knell for this legalized restraint on free competition. That is too much to expect; special interests undoubtedly will lobby for keeping such laws on the books, and it may be some time before they can be eliminated

It is good, however, that the attorney general has placed his powerful shoulder to this wheel. For as he said in a speech about Department of Justice antitrust "Whatever feeble justifications may have once existed for fair trade laws, there is today no substantive reason to so impede free enterprise or to place such heavy price burdens on an already burdened consuming public.

The great irony about these laws is that they are espoused by large corporations of the sort whose executives make speeches extolling free enterprise and the laws of supply and demand. The fair trade laws are designed to interfere with the workings of free enterprise to the benefit of manufacturers, who are thus enabled to set minimum prices

The practical result is that consumers pay more, often a lot more, than they would have to pay were competitive forces at the retail level allowed to work. This applies to a wide range of items in various parts of the country, from drugs and toiletries to television sets and refrigerators. Saxbe maintains that eliminating fair trade laws "could make a swift and meaningful impact on our inflationary problems." He is

LCI inmates seek to join Lions Club

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) - Thirty inmates have already filed for membership even though the Lions Club International will not begin seeking members for the first prison chapter until Tuesday at the Lebanon Correctional Institute.

The proposed charter, sponsored by the neighboring Morrow, Ohio club, has the full blessing of prison officials in the medium security facility.

LCI inmates for several years have had an active chapter of the Jaycees. Prison officials see such groups as helping with rehabilitation both through contact on the outside and enabling the prisoners to give of themselves.

"The thing we see is that these men can function as qualified Lions at LCI," Caplinger said. "Then, in the outside world, they can gain acceptance through Lions Clubs.

Farm phone bills up 11 per cent

WASHINGTON (AP) — Farmers are like most other Americans when it comes to paying higher prices for dayto-day family living. And the monthly telephone bill on the farm is up just like everything else.

An annual survey of farm telephone bills last summer showed those averaged $7.16 per month nationally, up 11 per cent from mid-1973. Last year farm telephone costs averaged $6.45 per month, only a 3 per cent gain from 1972, according to USDA. The department's Statistical

Reporting Service said its latest survey showed monthly telephone bills gained the most -15 per cent - in the Middle Atlantic states while those in New England and parts of the Southeast gained the least, about 8 per cent. Although the number of farms in the country declined 1 per cent during the year to around 2.8 million units, the number with telephones gained slightly so that by last summer about 88 per cent of them had service, the department said. About 98 per cent of all farm telephones were dial type, the report said. One per cent were the new pushbutton style, and 1 per cent were the older handcrancked or lift-receiver type using magneto power.

telephone bills was much larger in the previous year, it was about in line with other cost of living increases, according to USDA's latest price analysis based on mid-October surveys.

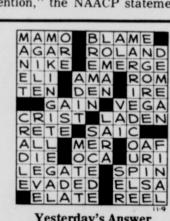

For example, the index of prices farmers pay to meet production expenses as of Oct. 15 was up 17 per cent from a year earlier. The overall family living cost index also was up 17 per cent, including a gain from a year earlier of 15 per cent for food and 12 per cent for building materials and household equipment.

Dear Abby: ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

A "Dear Jane"

won't work here

DEAR ABBY: It all started last summer when a very pretty but shallow 18-year-old girl came here from Italy to visit her aunt. We were fixed up on a blind date. I am 19.

Abby, if it is possible for a girl to rape a boy, that is what happened to me. I mean, she was really eager. We dated all summer.

She went back to Italy and we corresponded. Then she started writing things like "Nothing else matters to me in this world but you." Also, "I can't wait until we can be married." (I swear to God I never mentioned marriage to her once.)

I tried to break off the correspondence, but she wrote to me anyway. Now she writes that she is coming here to live with her aunt for a YEAR! That's that last thing I want. I want to write and tell her if she's coming to be near me, she shouldn't, because I have a lot of college ahead of me yet. I hate to sound like a heel, but I don't love this girl and I wish she would leave me

She told me that when she was 17 she had a broken love affair and tried to commit suicide and spent three months in a mental hospital, so I have to be careful how I handle her.

Please help me DESPERATE IN N.Y. DEAR DES: With her history of emotional instability, do not send her a "Dear Jane" letter. You can't stop her from coming, but if she does, let her down gently and ease her out of your life as subtly as possible.

DEAR ABBY: Two years ago, I moved in with an older couple, Jimmy and Laura. They treated me like a daughter and helped me get my head together. I was pretty messed up. I feel I owe them a lot. Six months ago, I got my own apartment, and three months later I began seeing a lot of this man I work with. I have fallen in love with him. He moved in with me last week and wants to marry me when his divorce is final. I think I love him enough to marry him, but I'm not sure yet. One of the problems is that he is twice as old as I I invited Jimmy and Laura over to meet my guy. They told me privately that they think I am looking for a father and I need to see a shrink. I feel I owe it to them to take their advice. But then if I do, wouldn't it show that I am not sure about my feelings for my guy? DEAR D. : Yes. But it's nothing to be

It's a lot easier to make a mistake than remedy it. Get into therapy, and stay single until you are sure of your feelings. DEAR ABBY: I made the mistake of lending a sympathetic ear to a woman who works with me, and now she calls me nearly every evening at home to tell me her troubles by the hour. I am not exaggerating, Abby, she often talks for a solid hour and if I don't make some excuse to get away from her, she talks longer.

I have left the phone and rung my own door bell just to end the conversation. Once I actually left the phone for 15 minutes, came back, and she never knew she had been talking to herself. When she starts talking, she doesn't even wait for an occasional sign that she's being heard. I feel sorry for her, but I simply cannot devote every evening listening to her complaints about her family, her job, and what's wrong with the world. DEAR WEARY: Now that you have allowed her to make a habit of calling you, it won't be easy to dissuade her, but you have to start somewhere, so tell her you are too busy to visit when she calls, and after a while she'll get the message.

Panthers claim second league title

By LARRY WATTS

Record-Herald Sports Editor Miami Trace had a lot to crow about Friday night. Surviving a big scare from a stubborn crew from Unioto, the Panthers knocked off the Shermans 16-3 to bring home a share of the South Central Ohio League crown in 1974.

Although the Panthers have to share their title with Circleville, Miami Trace proved themselves to be true champions by outplaying every one of their opponents this season. Both the Panthers and Tigers concluded their seasons with identical 5-1 marks in the SCOL and 8-2 records for the season.

In concluding their 14th season of football at Miami Trace, this marked the second SCOL crown for the Panthers. The only other championship for Miami Trace was in 1971.

Highlighting the title clinching victory was the performance of senior fullback Jeff Sagar. By gaining 12 yards on the final play of the game, not only did the shifty Panther fullback wind up with 179 yards in 21 carries, but he also concluded the season with 1,005

With the SCOL championship and Sagar reaching the 1,000 yard plateau in a single season stealing the spotlight. the Panthers' defense turned in another typical outstanding performance. The Shermans wound up with only 121 yards for the game as the rushing attack was held to just 48 yards.

Throughout the night, the Panthers' defense swarmed like vultures around  quarterback Scott Daily of Unioto. The began engineering his offense downsophomore signal-caller was sacked 12 times and lost a total of 38 yards for the

The stalwart defense of the Panthers also choked off the power running of fullback Dan Anders and halfback Bob Matson. Anders had 20 yards in eight carries and Matson picked up 44 yards in seven totes.

On the other hand, Miami Trace compiled a total of 357 yards for the game. On the ground, the Panthers managed 278 yards. Through the air, quarterback Tom Riley connected on seven of 13 spheroids for 79 yards.

Unioto linebacker Pat Kerns, who also recovered a fumble during the game, became the first SCOL player to intercept one of Riley's passes in league play this season. In 88 pass attempts in 10 games, only five have been intercepted.

As has been the case many times this season, the Panthers had to overcome the plaguing problem of penalties and fumbles. Several drives were brought to a quick halt because the ball fell from the hands of one of the Panther runners or the yellow flag was tossed in the air. Miami Trace lost all four of its fumbles and was penalized eight times for 82 yards in infractions

One of the penalties cost the Panthers a touchdown in the third stanza. Spotting halfback Bruce Ervin down the sidelines, Riley uncorked an 85yard scoring bomb to him. However, the Panthers were called for having an inelligible receiver downfield and the touchdown was called back.

Unioto proved just how stubborn of an opponent it was going to be by scoring the first time they had possession of the ball. With a 32-yard pass from Daily to Kerns sparking the drive, the Tanks finally ran out of gas at the 14-yard line of the Panthers. However, with the strong leg of senior tackle Jeff Allen on their side, the Shermans were well within striking distance as Allen booted a 32-yard field goal with 6:26 to play.

field for the first Panther score of the evening before the Parents Night crowd. With the aid of a 13-yard run by Riley, a 14-yard run by Ervin and a 13yard pass from Riley to split end Jeff Smithson, the Panthers marched 73 yards in eight plays. The score came on 10-yard pass from Riley to tight end Jay Mossbarger with 11:16 remaining in the first half. Riley also ran untouched into the endzone for the con-

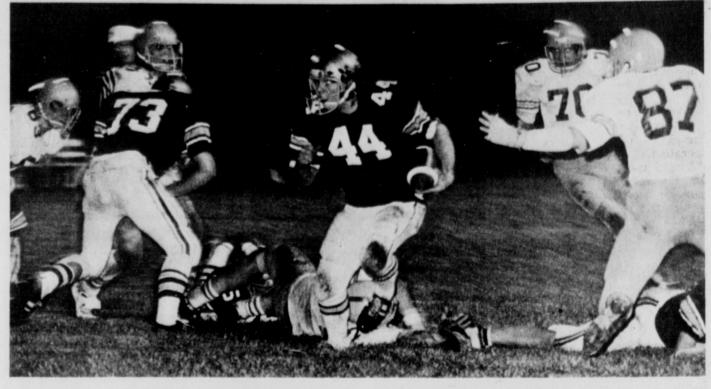

One of the big turning points in the game took place on the Shermans' pening drive of the second half. After the Tanks took the ball down to the Panthers' 20-yard line, Miami Trace's defense held fast and the Tanks called on Allen for the field goal.

With the ball resting 37 yards away, Allen split the uprights with perfection and plenty of room to spare. However, Unioto was called for illegal procedure, which was also their only penalty of the game, and the ball was moved back five yards. This time, Allen failed from 42 yards out as his kick went under the

Near the end of the period, with Miami Trace's offense still having problems unwinding in the second half, Unioto was back on the 20-yard line for another field goal attempt by Allen. Allen's boot went wide to the left and this was to be the last threat of the evening by the Shermans' offense.

Having only run six offensive plays and being held in poor field position throughout the third frame, the Panthers unleashed their power and demonstrated their stamina in the final quarter of play.

Beginning at Unioto's 13-yard line, Miami Trace marched upfield and scored its second touchdown of the game in nine plays. On the drive, Sagar bounced off of left tackle for 27 yards and halfback Kent Smith took a pitchout around left end for 25 yards. Riley ran the final five yards for the Late in the first period, Riley finally touchdown with 6:57 left in the game.

1.000 YARD CLUB MEMBER — With Panther tackle Bill Brundage supplying a block, fullback Jeff Sagar eyes the open field ahead of him. Sagar gained 179 yards against the Shermans to finish with 1,005 yards for the season.

Riley also crossed over left tackle for the conversion points

While the Panthers' offensive line was opening huge gaps for Sagar, Miami Trace's defense was shutting the door on Unioto. To single out any one player on the defensive unit would be an injustice as they all did an equally admirable job.

With just two seconds remaining in the game and still short of his 1,000yard goal, Sagar appeared to be caught in the backfield. However, as he has done many times before this season, he spotted an opening around left end. With a Unioto tackler hanging onto his back and running mostly on desire, Sagar picked up 12 yards on the carry and he laid face down on the turf not knowing whether he had eclipsed his

As second-year coach Fred Zechman pointed out in the jubilant locker room, his players have come a long way since the 14-12 loss to Circleville. The Panthers knew they had to win four consecutive games after that loss in order to tie for the crown

'I thought the boys did a tremendous job in overcoming all the setbacks which have been thrown in in front of them this season," Zechman said. "As they proved tonight, they never quit hitting and they earned the championship.

Zechman noted that the Shermans size hurt Miami Trace at first. However, as the game wore on, the Panthers just got tougher.

second half "I am very happy to be co-champions with Circleville," Zechman remarked. 'We are losing 16 seniors who made a tremendous contribution to this team.'

Despite the loss, Zechman indicated Unioto has come a long way since the start of the season. The Shermans concluded their first year of play in the SCOL with a 2-4 league mark and 5-5 record overall. All things considered, that is not the type of year for the only Class A school in the league to be

Lions pop Hillsboro's dreams

Record-Herald Sports Writer

Vowing to remember last year's 58-0 pasting at the hands of Washington Court House, the Hillsboro Indians laid in waiting for the 1974 edition of the Blue Lions the entire year.

As it turned out, the year was wasted as the smaller Lions still handily whipped the Indians by a score of 36-6. In 52 contests between the two teams, the Lions have usually scalped the Indians. The Lions now carry a 37-13-2 mark against Hillsboro.

The game also marked the completion of a decade at the helm of the Blue Lions for head coach Maurice Pfeifer. After taking the reigns of the Washington team from Dick Anders in 1965, Pfeifer has become an institution in Fayette County high school football. During his 10 years with the Lions, he has compiled a record of 61-34-5 in addition to two SCOL titles.

Court House also kept a little known string going with their 4-2 record against league teams. Not since 1967 have the Lions finished below third place in the final standings of the SCOL. This year they landed in third behind the co-champions Circleville and Miami Trace.

After graduating 20 seniors, 15 of which were three-year lettermen, from the 1973 state champions, many people wondered what would remain for this year. Even coach Pfeifer wondered before the season got underway, "Can we play defense with 150 pounders?" The members of that defense proved themselves by holding the opponents to under 13 points eight times plus two shutouts

However, at Hillsboro, the night actually belonged to the offense just as much as the defense. The Blue Lion runners ran almost at will over, under and through the Indians defenses while the Washington defense pressured Indian quarterback Tyler Woods into throwing bad passes the entire night.

The Lion offensive running game had the Indians running in circles just trying to figure out who was going to run the ball as Washington used a total of nine runners throughout the game. Senior fullback Larry Dumford carried the ball nine times for 49 yards and was the top Lion rusher for the evening. Complimenting Dumford were senior tailback Doug Maddux with four carries for 45 yards and senior signalcaller Jeff Brown with 29 yards on six totes.

After the Lion runners had chewed up 163 yards on the ground, Brown proceeded to rip apart the Indian secondary. Although only seven passes were completed, they covered 183 yards as the Indian defense was susceptible to the long bomb. Having fine nights on the receiving end of the aerials were Mark Stewart with two receptions for 113 yards and Randy Sparkman, who scored 10 points via pass catches.

dazzle from the Lions to see if they could catch Hillsboro off guard. On the opening kickoff, Washington tried an onside kick, but the ball failed to go the necessary 10 yards and the Indians had good, early field position. However, the Indians failed to muster any resemblance of a team ready to average a 58-0 licking and gave up the ball after three plays.

With the punt landing on the Washington one-yard-line, the Lions started to move toward Hillsboro's goal line like a powerful locomotive. The Lions needed just seven plays to steamroll over the hapless Hillsboro defense to paydirt.

Highlighting the drive were a 22-yard pass to Sparkman, a 45-yard aerial to Stewart and the six-yard touchdown toss to Sparkman to make the score 6-0.The Brown-Sparkman hookup also cashed in on the conversion attempt and the Lions were off and winning 8-0.

Hillsboro showed signs of emerging from the depths of despair when they scored on a 12 play, 49-yard drive climaxed by a three-yard scamper by Ken Captain. However, the Indians failed to convert the points after the touchdown and the score remained at 8-

Washington C.H. cranked up their offensive machine later in the same quarter and stung the Hillsboro secondary on a 68-yard touchdown bomb from Brown to Stewart. Again,

The game started with a little razzle- the Brown to Sparkman combination worked for the conversion points and Lions took a 16-6 halftime lead into the locker room.

The Blue Lions wasted no time in getting more points on the scoreboard as the second half began. An eight play, 53-yard drive topped off by a Mark Fisher seven-yard plunge put the Lions on top 22-6. A high snap from center destroyed the chances for the extra point attempt.

From that point in the game, Washington's defense started blasting the Hillsboro runners and began to force the breaks. Randy Gardner recovered a Hillsboro fumble on the four-yard line and Dumford punched the ball across the goal line for an easy score. Greg Marti added the extra point on a conversion kick, which ran the score to 29-6.

Feeling the pain of their eighth loss, the Indians took just two plays and then fumbled again on their 36-yard line. Gardner was in the right place again, scooped up the loose football and scampered 33 yards with it to the Hillsboro three-yard line. From there. Gardner took it in on the next play from scrimmage for Washington's final touchdown of the year. Marti added the final point to end it at 36-6.

With last night being the final game of the seniors "high school career, they decided to swap positions for one series of plays. A guard, John Anders played quarterback, while another guard, Kevin Blair, played tailback. Blair even completed a pass to Dumford on a halfback option play.

The Lions finish the season with a 7-3 record and compiled a 4-2 league record. The Indians finish with a 2-8 record while dropping all of their six SCOL games.

Circleville, Wilmington capture season finales

Circleville wrapped up its 1974 season with a 34-7 win over the highly-touted Rangers from Hamilton Township and Wilmington brought their season to a close with 13-6 thriller over Greenfield.

The Tigers, co-champions in the South Central Ohio League by virtue of their 5-1 league record, dented the scoreboard for five touchdowns while limiting the Rangers to only one.

The Tigers two premier runners, Biff Bumgarner and Pat McNaughton, each ended the season with outstanding statistics. Bumgarner collected 1,206 yards for the year while McNaughton piled up 702 yards on the ground.

Circleville ended the season with an 8-2 record, while Hamilton Township roundup with an identical 8-2 record. Wilmington scored on two long plays

In the Belle-Aire Subdivision, the house is situated on a 85 by 140 foot lot. Although similar homes in the area have sold for much more, the house is in need of considerable repair before it will be ready for occupancy or resale. James A. Captain Sticky' battling evildoers

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) -Richard Pesta has stuffed his 350 pounds into a blue jump suit and wrapped it all up in a gold cape. He says the first step toward fighting evil business practices is to call attention to

Sporting a golden S on his chest, a beard on his chin, and gold shoes on his feet. Pesta goes from local television show to local radio program to supermarket openings calling himself "Captain Sticky" and hawking his own brand of righteous crusade. He says he's already appeared on 50 TV programs and about 90 radio programs.

"I wanted to come up with a means of communication," he explains. "And what I've decided to use apparently seems more credible to the American public than its own elected officials."

He says two current targets of his speeches are advertising techniques that make consumers feel inadequate, and old age homes that he says abuse their patients.

Pesta's girth and outlandish regalia aren't his only weapons, however. In one recent conversation with a reporter, Pesta was flanked by his lawyer and his own marketing expert. Pesta, now 29, says he retired this year from a highly profitable career in the fiberglass business that left him well enough off to live in a luxurious house in Long Beach and devote full time to the crusade

'Captain Sticky isn't going to get rich," he says.

Nevertheless, his headquarters in Los Angeles is marketing a Captain Sticky comic book for $1, a Captain Sticky bumper sticker for 50 cents and a Captain Sticky T-shirt for $3.50 or $4.50, depending on size.

Pesta's first campaign takes aim at what he says are abuses in some homes for the elderly. Without naming names, he shows pictures of the alleged abuses.

So, he adds, "We'll be advertising for Candy Stripers (volunteer hospital workers) and other people who work in convalescent homes and hospitals to come in and we'll tell them what the

The bidding:

North East South West Pass Pass Pass Pass Pass 6 4 Pass

Opening lead -— king of clubs.

There are many ways to investigate the possibility of bidding a slam and there is no magic formula that tells you which one to use. Good judgment and common sense are indispensable attributes, and specialized conventions such as Blackwood don't necessarily supply the answer.

Take this deal where South should not simply bid a game

after the raise to three, as it is possible for even a passed hand to contain the right cards for a slam. He should send out a feeler by bidding four clubs, avoiding the use of Blackwood, which would tell him how many aces partner has without telling him how far to go. When North cooperates with the slam try by bidding four hearts, South still cannot justifiably bid more than four spades. But when North again shows extra values by cuebidding the ace of diamonds, South should accept the challenge and bid six.

West leads a club and South sees that there are two possible losers, a club and a diamond. Rather than rely on the diamond finesse, which would give him only a 50 per cent chance for the slam, he plans to establish dummy's fifth heart.

After taking the ace of clubs, he plays a heart to the ace and ruffs a heart high. He then enters dummy with a trump and ruffs another heart high. Another trump to dummy followed by a third heart ruff establishes the jack as a trick.

South now plays a diamond to the ace, refusing the finesse, discards his club loser on the jack of hearts, and in that way makes the slam. The only trick he loses is a diamond.

Today, the science of anesthesiology is considered a dominant factor in the safety of surgery and in uncomplicated recovery.

Researchers are continuing to seek new drugs and devices to further increase the safety of surgery.

Now, a team of doctors at the Necker Hospital in Paris have developed and are using a technique of electro-anesthesia

Dr. Maurice Cara and Dr. Christien Debras are using electric current, in conjunction with tranquilizing drugs, for surgical anesthesia.

This procedure seems to be particularly valuable for lengthy operations, especially in patients who are considered to be relatively poor surgical

Metzenbaum won't quit

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Sen. Howard Metzenbaum, D-Ohio, has no plans to resign before the end of his term to give Senator-elect John Glenn a seniority advantage, an aide said

Vick French, administrative assistant to Metzenbaum, commented on a suggestion by Auditor-elect Thomas Ferguson that the senator resign, clearing the way for Glenn's appointment and giving Glenn "a jump in seniority over the other new senators who will be taking office in January."

Metzenbaum is in Rome for a world food conference. French, reached in Washington, said Metzenbaum stated recently he would not even consider resigning early.

French added that Metzenbaum has not been approached by either Glenn or Gov. John Gilligan about resigning. He said Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield had asked Metzenbaum to stay on at least through the end of the formal session because of several pieces of legislation he has in-

School aid formula under fire

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The old formula for state aid to public schools should be replaced by an approach that would guarantee equal state dollars for every dollar of local tax effort, a legislative committee has decided. The bipartisan Education Review Committee met Friday, facing a Dec. 15 deadline for preparation of a package of recommendations on school financing for the 111th General Assembly.

The present school foundation formula has been roundly criticized for failing to provide an equal flow of state dollars to local school districts.

The state money goes to schools on a sliding scale favoring low tax effort districts over high effort areas. As a result, observed State Rep. Marcus Roberto, D-62 Ravenna, "There is no incentive for districts to increase their millage (tax levy).'

The committee has decided to develop a guaranteed equal yield formula whereby the state would match local tax dollars up to a designated ceiling. Districts in high tax base areas would pay a greater local share. Dr. Robert Goettel, a consultant from the Syracuse University Research Corp., said equal yield would permit local districts to "determine what their millage rates will be" and make the state share "responsive to the local tax.

Under the current system, local districts are assessed a 25 mill chargeoff toward a basic $660 per pupil, with the state paying the rest of the tab.

The majority of the United Mine Workers' 120,000 members finished work Friday and were not expected back because most mines don't operate over the weekend and next Monday is a miners' holiday.

Rep. Peter A. Peyser, R-N.Y., called for Rhodes' overthrow and House GOP Conference Chairman John B. Anderson of Illinois left open the possibility of his trying to unseat Rhodes.

'I'm not closing the door to anything at this point," Anderson told reporters. Anderson interpreted Tuesday's loss of at least 43 Republican seats as voter rejection of Republican conservatism

WASHINGTON (AP) - A fledgling but said this does not mean the only answer is to throw out GOP leader Rhodes.

"I'm not going to make a selfish bid for power," Anderson said. "If this would be a move that might unite us, perhaps I would," he said later. "But I'm not part of a ploy to bring that about."

Peyser said he had talked of a possible revolt against Rhodes with about 15 of his House colleagues and thought there was a good chance to pull

In Phoenix, Ariz., Rhodes was not available for comment, but press aide Jay Smith described Peyser as "an obscure member who's trying to get a little press.'

The Republican House losses Tuesday were bigger than the 36-seat loss with President Lyndon B. Johnson's landslide in 1964 that led to the Ford coup.

Moderate House Republicans installed Ford as GOP leader with the platform that he would mount a "responsible Republican alternative" to Johnson's Great Society programs.

Anderson and Peyser contended Tuesday's elections showed a similar shift and that the country wants moderate programs, particularly to solve urban problems.

Anderson has been a leader of liberal Republicans against, for example, the Vietnam war, and for urban and social

Members of the Fayette County Board of Education and administrators in the Miami Trace School District have discussed the results of last Tuesday's election and Superintendent Guy M. Foster reported that there was general disappointment over the failure of the three-mill additional operating levy and the bond issue for the construction of a new junior high school building.

A complete review of the election results will be conducted at the next regular meeting of the Fayette County Board of Education scheduled Nov. 19. Foster said although both issues were equally important to a different aspect of the total school community, the more immediate question rests with the need of increased operational funds, especially for improved salaries and wages. Foster said the board members will possibly consider a move to place an operating levy on the ballot again.

'Although the results of the election were damaging to the efforts to improve the Miami Trace school system, many, many people did support the issues. Various groups and individuals contributed dollars and or man hours to sell the community on better schools," Foster said.

"The need was there and lots of people really gave top priority to education," he said. "To all those who carried the message and to those who voted favorably, the board of education and administration expresses their appreciation," Foster said.

Foster said he felt "that everyone should take a more serious look at the schools and resolve to improve the weak areas even to the extent of paying the bill when that is the answer.

Acquittal of guardsmen leaves some questions

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Eight former Ohio National Guardsmen have been freed of charges of civil rights violations stemming from the 1970 Kent State University shootings.

U.S. District Judge Frank J. Battisti granted a defense motion for a judgment of acquittal Friday, ruling that evidence presented by the government was not sufficient to support charges in an indictment returned by a federal grand jury last March 29.

However, he said state officials may wish to pursue criminal charges in the

Four students were killed and nine others wounded May 4, 1970, by a 13second burst of gunfire during a confrontation between National Guard troops and students protesting U.S. military involvement in Cambodia.

Battisti's ruling ended abruptly a trial that started Oct. 21 and was expected to last six to eight weeks.

In his written opinion, the judge said, "It is entirely possible that state officials may yet wish to pursue criminal prosecutions against various persons responsible for events at Kent State. This opinion does not pass on the propriety of such prosecutions, if any.'

Ohio Atty. Gen. William J. Brown would not speculate on the possibility of the state undertaking any criminal prosecution.

"I don't know what he's talking about," Brown said in commenting on the judge's opinion. "I'd have to read the statement in its totality. After all, we've just defended them.

Guardsmen were exonerated by a special state grand jury that investigated the shootings four years ago. It indicted 25 other persons, including Kent State students and former students. The charges were dropped a year later.

The state grand jury said it found that guardsmen had reason to believe their lives were in danger from rockthrowing antiwar demonstrators when they began shooting.

The eight former guardsmen were charged in the federal indictment with wilfully assaulting and intimidating the shooting victims and others by firing weapons in their direction and with depriving them of their right against loss of liberty without due process of

Judge Battisti ruled that "based upon the evidence offered the court, reasonable jurors must find that there is a reasonable doubt as to whether these eight defendants were possessed of a specific intention to deprive the students of Kent State set forth in the indictment of their constitutional and federal rights at the time they discharged their weapons."

Robert A. Murphy, head of the civil

In that situation, the issues of justification, of the possible excessiveness of the force used, of provocation, of self defense - might be relevant to the offense charged."

The judge said, "It must be clearly understood that the conduct of both the guardsmen who fired and of the guard and state officials who placed their guardsmen in the situation noted ... is neither approved nor vindicated by this opinion.

Man hires 'wife' for self at rate of $500 per month

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Two years ago, Edmund L. Van Deusen, a grandfather, found himself divorced and lonely, but unwilling to marry again. So he hired a "wife.

Elaine Peterson, 35, answered Van Deusen's newspaper ad asking for a woman to live with him as an informal wife for $500 a month.

The 50-year-old chemist and Ms. Peterson, who said she had been living outdoors the past six years and welcomed the chance to spend the coming winter in out of the rain, are still together. And Van Deusen says he and his "hired" wife "feel very good about each other."

Ms. Peterson agreed enthusiastically, "It's really sexy." Van Deusen said in an interview this week that after his 26-year marriage he decided to go solo "unsuppressed by togetherness and by love possessed" or by anyone possessed.

He said he found brief love affairs with intermittent periods of loneliness too much to bear, and he struck on the idea of hiring a "wife" he could shed without government interference. He put an ad in a Los Angeles underground

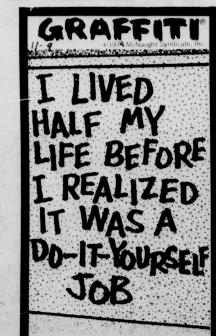

'Scores of women, all sorts of women, replied," he said. His choice was Elaine.

During the interview he presented a bespectacled, professorial appearance, while she sat smiling in blue jeans beneath an unruly mop of curls.

"Sex without love is different," Van Deusen said. "It's very free and natural. Older men, especially, are under real performance pressure.'

Before setting out on their unconventional conjugal life, Van Deusen and Ms. Peterson signed documents spelling out the duties of both parties: for Van Deusen, the compensation and all other requirements of an employer; for Ms. Peterson — who prefers the Ms. designation — the requirements of the bedroom and the kitchen, in that order. The document also outlines Ms. Peterson's "duty hours," "days off," and "vacation" time.

As Kissinger's Boeing 707 stopped at the U.S. Air Base in Torrejon for fuel before setting out across the Atlantic, U.S. officials told reporters the first four days of his 26,880-mile trip, in Moscow, may have been the most productive part. Manufacturers say they have a boom-time labor force but instead of putting it to work filling customary large Christmas orders, they're laying their workers off as much as two months early.

"In the last couple of years we've shipped everything we got our hands on but this year orders are behind 25 to 30 per cent. Instead of laying people off at the end of November as usual, we had to do it at the end of September," says a

"Retailers are going to dump this Christmas. There'll be heavy promotion and price slashing," says a leading retailer, "We can't afford to keep inventories at present prime rate levels and we don't want heavy inventories on highpriced goods with prices starting to come down on raw

Another reason to clear out 1974 bikes by the first of the new year, say retailers, is to stock up on bikes made to meet new federal safety standards.

Under the new regulations, all bikes sold in the United States by May 1, 1975 must have 16 reflectors—among them are four on the pedals, two-sided reflectors on the spokes of each wheel and reflectory tires to give motorists the whole outline of a bike at night. Bike brakes must make prescribed stops at certain speeds and nothing on the bike can extend five inches above

The slump in bike sales comes after several years of fast-increasing sales after adults in large numbers started taking to the road on two wheels.

Leisure time and health concerns helped send annual bike sales from 9 million in 1971 to a high of 15.5 million in 1973 when the energy crisis sparked the greatest surge of adult riders in the industry's history.

The agricultural price report of the crop reporting services points up some interesting facts we should all be aware of. It may change our reaction to the announcement of price rises for sensationalism in the headlines. The report indicated the Ohio all farm products price index is up four per cent from mid September to mid October. However — it's less than one-half per cent above mid October 1973. The point to be made is this, when we talk about percentage increases we have to keep in mind the point of reference. Find food stamps used for meat

By DON KENDALL

AP Farm Writer WASHINGTON (AP) - A study by the Agriculture Department shows that low-income families frequently buy more meat, particularly beef, when government food stamps are made available to them.

But the study, published Monday by the department's Economic Research Service, said the larger consumption by food stamp families has not resulted in significantly higher meat prices.
"Since 1969, the expanded issuance of food stamps has enabled low-income families to spend more than they would otherwise spend for red meats," the report said.

Bonus stamps, however, do not account for any major portion of the total increase in total consumer expenditures for meat. Generally rising incomes and inflation are the primary sources of pressure on meat prices," the report said.

Under the food stamp program, a low-income family can get a monthly allotment of coupons to help meet its grocery costs. The amount it pays for the stamps is based on the family's

If a four-member household, for example, has a net income of less than $30 per month it can get $150 worth of food stamps free of charge. But as the family's income rises, the amount it is required to pay also increases so that by the time net earnings are $450 a month the required payment goes up to $126 for $150 worth of food stamps.

The difference between what a person has to pay to get food stamps and the total value of the coupons is the "bonus" value contributed by the federal government. In its report, USDA said that for each $1 in bonus stamps provided lowincome families an average of 15.2 cents went to buy additional red meat. Of that, beef accounted for 9.5 cents.

The report said U.S. consumers spent about $22 billion for beef in 1972, a gain of $2.8 billion from the previous year. The added impact from food stamps in 1972 was $187.9 million or less than one per cent of total beef spending that

"Findings from earlier surveys indicated that new participants in the food stamp program used substantial portions of their expanded buying power in increasing purchases of red meats, particularly ground beef and lower-cost beef cuts," the report said. "To a lesser degree, bakery products, fruits and vegetables claimed additional food dollars."

FERTILIZER consumption (both farm and non-farm) in Ohio during the year ended June 30, 1974 totaled 1,818,209 tons, 17 per cent above the previous year's use. This is the largest in Ohio on record.

SHEEP PRODUCERS, don't forget you have the opportunity to vote in the sheep referendum, November 4 - 15. All wool and lamb producers should have received ballots from the ASCS office prior to November 4. These ballots must be returned by November 15.

The purpose of the sheep referendum is to determine if sheep producers want to continue their promotion program as it is conducted by the American Sheep Producers Council. If approved, the promoting program would be extended another 4 years through 1978.

Soybeans top income source during 1973

WOOSTER - Although the Ohio in cash receipts from the previous farm income picture for 1974 is not so year. rosy, 1973 has now "officially" found its place in the pages of history as a good year for Buckeye agriculture.

Previous records were shattered as total cash receipts from farming shot up 44 per cent in Ohio to $2.27 billion and soybeans took over undisputed first place as the top income source.

These facts are revealed in a new publication, "1973 Ohio Farm Income," just released by the Department of Agricultural Economics and Rural Sociology of the Ohio State University and the Ohio Agricultural Research and Development Center in cooperation with the USDA Statistical Reporting Service.

Total sales of crops in Ohio last year were just under $1.2 billion, up 67 per cent from the ear earlier. Crop receipts accounted for 52.8 per cent of the 1973 total. Sale of livestock and livestock products made up 47.2 per cent of marketing receipts totalling just under $1.1 billion.

Cash receipts for soybeans in 1973 soared to $547.5 million, up 110 per cent from the previous year, making the important protein crop the largest single source of farm income. Cash receipts from corn rose 85 per cent to $335.5 million, ranking third among all commodities in importance. Most other crops also showed increases

The sale of cattle and calves returned $338.6 million to Ohio farmers and ranked second. Dairy products, previously the top money earner in Ohio, dropped to fourth place in 1973, totalling $311.6 million.

Other top commodities in terms of total cash receipts were hogs, at $268.4 million, and poultry and eggs, at $129.8

Darke County again led in total cash receipts from farming with $83 million this compared to marketings of $54 million in 1972. The next four highest counties were Mercer, Fulton, Wood, and Wayne — each topping the $56 million mark in cash receipts.

Leading counties by agricultural commodities were: soybeans, Darke; cattle and calves, Fulton; corn, Wood; dairy products, Wayne; hogs, Clinton; poultry and eggs, Mercer; wheat, Wood; vegetables, Lorain; greenhouse and nursery crops, Lake.

Soybeans were the top commodity in 39 of Ohio's 88 counties; cattle yielded the most receipts in 24 counties; and dairying was most important in 16 counties.

It should be emphasized that cash receipts do not include the value of commodities used on farms. For example, much of the state's corn and forage production is fed to livestock and marketed in the form of beef or milk. The value of home consumption of farm commodities in 1973 is estimated at $32.3 million.

Cash receipts represent gross returns from actual sale of crops and livestock during the calendar year.

Last year also saw increases in production expenses ($1.8 million compared to $1.5 million in 1972). It still added up to a good year for Ohio farmers as realized net farm income more than doubled from $403.8 million to $811

Saxbe on fair trade laws

It would be pleasant to think that Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe's attack on so-called fair trade laws sounded the death knell for this legalized restraint on free competition. That is too much to expect; special interests undoubtedly will lobby for keeping such laws on the books, and it may be some time before they can be eliminated.

It is good, however, that the attorney general has placed his powerful shoulder to this wheel. For as he said in a speech about Department of Justice antitrust "Whatever feeble justifications may have once existed for fair trade laws, there is today no substantive reason to so impede free enterprise or to place such heavy price burdens on an already burdened consuming public."

The great irony about these laws is that they are espoused by large corporations of the sort whose executives make speeches extolling free enterprise and the laws of supply and demand. The fair trade laws are designed to interfere with the workings of free enterprise to the benefit of manufacturers, who are thus enabled to set minimum prices at which retailers may sell their products.

The practical result is that consumers pay more, often a lot more, than they would have to pay were competitive forces at the retail level allowed to work. This applies to a wide range of items in various parts of the country, from drugs and toiletries to television sets and refrigerators. Saxbe maintains that eliminating fair trade laws "could make a swift and meaningful impact on our inflationary problems." He is

LCI inmates seek to join Lions Club

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) - Thirty inmates have already filed for membership even though the Lions Club International will not begin seeking members for the first prison chapter until Tuesday at the Lebanon Correctional Institute.

The proposed charter, sponsored by the neighboring Morrow, Ohio club, has the full blessing of prison officials in the medium security facility

LCI inmates for several years have had an active chapter of the Jaycees. Prison officials see such groups as helping with rehabilitation both through contact on the outside and enabling the prisoners to give of themselves.

"I'm so excited about this thing, said Ken Caplinger, District 13 governor. Lions Club International. "It's been in the mix for a long time and researched from top to bottom.

"If the goal at LCI is rehabilitation, then this is something we should be doing.'

The inmates are hoping to re-establish their "Operation Voice," taping books and other material for the visually handicapped. The Lions Clubs develop programs and help for the visually handicapped.

Ronald Stanton, a prison guard, was instrumental in establishing the chapter at LCI. He belongs to the Morrow group and has been named guiding supervisor for the LCI chapter.

"The thing we see is that these men can function as qualified Lions at LCI,' Caplinger said. "Then, in the outside world, they can gain acceptance through Lions Clubs.

Farm phone bills up 11 per cent

WASHINGTON (AP) — Farmers are like most other Americans when it comes to paying higher prices for dayto-day family living. And the monthly telephone bill on the farm is up just like everything else.

An annual survey of farm telephone bills last summer showed those averaged $7.16 per month nationally, up 11 per cent from mid-1973. Last year farm telephone costs averaged $6.45 per month, only a 3 per cent gain from 1972, according to USDA. The department's Statistical

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)- The Cincinnati branch of the NAACP declared its opposition to so-called "Dum Dum" ammunition sought for use by police.

The plan was delayed by city council Wednesday for further study. The NAACP also asked for a state ban on the hollowpoint bullets.

Dear Abby: ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

A "Dear Jane"

won't work here

DEAR ABBY: It all started last summer when a very pretty but shallow 18-year-old girl came here from Italy to visit her aunt. We were fixed up on a blind date. I am 19.

Abby, if it is possible for a girl to rape a boy, that is what happened to me. I mean, she was really eager. We dated all summer.

She went back to Italy and we corresponded. Then she started writing things like "Nothing else matters to me in this world but you." Also, "I can't wait until we can be married." (I swear to God I never mentioned marriage to her once.)

I tried to break off the correspondence, but she wrote to me anyway. Now she writes that she is coming here to live with her aunt for a YEAR! That's that last thing I want. I want to write and tell her if she's coming to be near me, she shouldn't, because I have a lot of college ahead of me yet. I hate to sound like a heel, but I don't love this girl and I wish she would leave me

She told me that when she was 17 she had a broken love affair and tried to commit suicide and spent three months in a mental hospital, so I have to be careful how I handle her.

Please help me.

DESPERATE IN N.Y. DEAR DES: With her history of emotional instability, do not send her a 'Dear Jane" letter. You can't stop her from coming, but if she does, let her down gently and ease her out of your life as subtly as possible. DEAR ABBY: Two years ago, I moved in with an older couple, Jimmy and Laura. They treated me like a daughter and helped me get my head together. I was pretty messed up. I feel I owe them a lot.

Six months ago, I got my own apartment, and three months later I began seeing a lot of this man I work with. I have fallen in love with him. He moved in with me last week and wants to marry me when his divorce is final. I think I love him enough to marry him, but I'm not sure yet. One of the problems is that he is twice as old as I

I invited Jimmy and Laura over to meet my guy. They told me privately that they think I am looking for a father and I need to see a shrink. I feel I owe it to them to take their advice. But then if I do, wouldn't it show that I am not sure about my feelings for my guy?

DEAR D. : Yes. But it's nothing to be ashamed of. That takes intelligence! it's a lot easier to make a mistake than remedy it. Get into therapy, and stay single until you are sure of your feelings. DEAR ABBY: I made the mistake of lending a sympathetic ear to a woman who works with me, and now she calls me nearly every evening at home to tell me her troubles by the hour. I am not exaggerating, Abby, she often talks for a solid hour and if I don't make some excuse to get away from her, she talks longer. I have left the phone and rung my own door bell just to end the conversation. Once I actually left the phone for 15 minutes, came back, and she never knew she had been talking to herself. When she starts talking, she doesn't even wait for an occasional sign that she's being heard. I feel sorry for her, but I simply cannot devote every evening listening to her complaints about her family, her job, and what's wrong with the world.

DEAR WEARY: Now that you have allowed her to make a habit of calling you, it won't be easy to dissuade her, but you have to start somewhere, so tell her you are too busy to visit when she calls, and after a while she'll get the message.

Albee theater rescue studied

CINCINNATI, Ohio Preservation groups seeking to save the downtown Albee Theater from destruction were told they can now appeal to Cincinnati City Council.

The city planning commission rejected a proposal Friday to ask the city to preserve the property by or-dinance as a "listed property." The listing would prevent demolition for six months.

The theater sits on land sought for development of a skyscraper complex adjacent to the downtown Fountain Square Plaza.

Panthers claim second league title

By LARRY WATTS

Record-Herald Sports Editor Miami Trace had a lot to crow about Friday night. Surviving a big scare from a stubborn crew from Unioto, the Panthers knocked off the Shermans 16-3 to bring home a share of the South Central Ohio League crown in 1974.

Although the Panthers have to share their title with Circleville, Miami Trace proved themselves to be true champions by outplaying every one of their opponents this season. Both the Panthers and Tigers concluded their seasons with identical 5-1 marks in the SCOL and 8-2 records for the season.

In concluding their 14th season of football at Miami Trace, this marked the second SCOL crown for the Panthers. The only other championship for Miami Trace was in 1971.

Highlighting the title clinching victory was the performance of senior fullback Jeff Sagar. By gaining 12 yards on the final play of the game, not only did the shifty Panther fullback wind up with 179 yards in 21 carries, but he also concluded the season with 1,005

With the SCOL championship and Sagar reaching the 1,000 yard plateau in a single season stealing the spotlight, the Panthers' defense turned in another typical outstanding performance. The Shermans wound up with only 121 yards for the game as the rushing attack was held to just 48 yards.

Throughout the night, the Panthers' defense swarmed like vultures around

The stalwart defense of the Panthers also choked off the power running of fullback Dan Anders and halfback Bob Matson. Anders had 20 yards in eight carries and Matson picked up 44 yards in seven totes.

On the other hand, Miami Trace compiled a total of 357 yards for the game. On the ground, the Panthers managed 278 yards. Through the air, quarterback Tom Riley connected on seven of 13 spheroids for 79 yards.

Unioto linebacker Pat Kerns, who also recovered a fumble during the game, became the first SCOL player to intercept one of Riley's passes in league play this season. In 88 pass attempts in 10 games, only five have been intercepted.

As has been the case many times this season, the Panthers had to overcome the plaguing problem of penalties and fumbles. Several drives were brought to a quick halt because the ball fell from the hands of one of the Panther runners or the yellow flag was tossed in the air. Miami Trace lost all four of its fumbles and was penalized eight times for 82 yards in infractions.

One of the penalties cost the Panthers a touchdown in the third stanza. Spotting halfback Bruce Ervin down the sidelines, Riley uncorked an 85yard scoring bomb to him. However, the Panthers were called for having an inelligible receiver downfield and the touchdown was called back.

Unioto proved just how stubborn of an opponent it was going to be by scoring the first time they had possession of the ball. With a 32-yard pass from Daily to Kerns sparking the drive, the Tanks finally ran out of gas at the 14-yard line of the Panthers. However, with the strong leg of senior tackle Jeff Allen on their side, the Shermans were well within striking distance as Allen booted a 32-yard field goal with 6:26 to play.

began engineering his offense downfield for the first Panther score of the evening before the Parents Night crowd. With the aid of a 13-yard run by Riley, a 14-yard run by Ervin and a 13yard pass from Riley to split end Jeff Smithson, the Panthers marched 73 yards in eight plays. The score came on a 10-yard pass from Riley to tight end Jay Mossbarger with 11:16 remaining in the first half. Riley also ran untouched into the endzone for the con-

One of the big turning points in the game took place on the Shermans' opening drive of the second half. After the Tanks took the ball down to the Panthers' 20-yard line, Miami Trace's defense held fast and the Tanks called on Allen for the field goal.

With the ball resting 37 yards away, Allen split the uprights with perfection and plenty of room to spare. However, Unioto was called for illegal procedure, which was also their only penalty of the game, and the ball was moved back five yards. This time, Allen failed from 42 yards out as his kick went under the

Near the end of the period, with Miami Trace's offense still having problems unwinding in the second half, Unioto was back on the 20-yard line for another field goal attempt by Allen. Allen's boot went wide to the left and this was to be the last threat of the evening by the Shermans' offense.

Having only run six offensive plays and being held in poor field position throughout the third frame, the Panthers unleashed their power and demonstrated their stamina in the final quarter of play.

Beginning at Unioto's 13-yard line, Miami Trace marched upfield and scored its second touchdown of the game in nine plays. On the drive, Sagar bounced off of left tackle for 27 yards and halfback Kent Smith took a pitchout around left end for 25 yards. Riley ran the final five yards for the Late in the first period, Riley finally touchdown with 6:57 left in the game.

Riley also crossed over left tackle for the conversion points.

While the Panthers' offensive line was opening huge gaps for Sagar, Miami Trace's defense was shutting the door on Unioto. To single out any one player on the defensive unit would be an injustice as they all did an equally admirable job.

With just two seconds remaining in the game and still short of his 1,000yard goal, Sagar appeared to be caught in the backfield. However, as he has done many times before this season, he spotted an opening around left end. With a Unioto tackler hanging onto his back and running mostly on desire, Sagar picked up 12 yards on the carry and he laid face down on the turf not knowing whether he had eclipsed his

As second-year coach Fred Zechman pointed out in the jubilant locker room, his players have come a long way since the 14-12 loss to Circleville. The Panthers knew they had to win four consecutive games after that loss in order to tie for the crown.

"I thought the boys did a tremendous job in overcoming all the setbacks which have been thrown in in front of them this season," Zechman said. "As they proved tonight, they never quit hitting and they earned the championship."

Zechman noted that the Shermans size hurt Miami Trace at first. However, as the game wore on, the Panthers just got tougher.

"Center Tom Reisinger and tackle Don Dunton did a tremendous job of helping to open the middle for Sagar in the second half," Zechman noted. After being held to 43 yards in the first half, the offensive line helped spring Sagar loose for 136 yards in the second half.

"I am very happy to be co-champions with Circleville," Zechman remarked. "We are losing 16 seniors who made a tremendous contribution to this team."

Despite the loss, Zechman indicated Unioto has come a long way since the start of the season. The Shermans concluded their first year of play in the SCOL with a 2-4 league mark and 5-5 record overall. All things considered, that is not the type of year for the only Class A school in the league to be ashamed of.

Circleville wrapped up its 1974 season with a 34-7 win over the highly-touted Rangers from Hamilton Township and Wilmington brought their season to a close with 13-6 thriller over Greenfield. The Tigers, co-champions in the South Central Ohio League by virtue of their 5-1 league record, dented the scoreboard for five touchdowns while limiting the Rangers to only one. The Tigers two premier runners, Biff Bumgarner and Pat McNaughton, each ended the season with outstanding statistics. Bumgarner collected 1,206 yards for the year while McNaughton piled up 702 yards on the ground. Circleville ended the season with an 8-2 record, while Hamilton Township roundup with an identical 8-2 record. Wilmington scored on two long plays to whip McClain. A 42-yard bomb from Duane Earley to Tim Carr accounted for the first score and a 50-yard jaunt by Jackie Watson essentially won the Watson ends the 1974 season with 1,336 yards, tops in the SCOL ahead of Bumgarner and Jeff Sagar of Miami Trace, who totalled 1,005 yards. Wilmington evens their seasonal record at 5-5 with the win as Greenfield had their first winning season for a number of years in compiling a 6-4 record.

City police check six minor mishaps

Washington C.H. police reported one J. Garrison, 19, of 415 W. Circle Ave., accident Saturday morning, four accidents Friday and one accident Thursday. None of the mishaps involved injury. The Fayette County Sheriff's Department reported no accidents today.

A car driven by Stony M. Howe, 18. Bloomingburg, went out of control while turning off Willard Street onto Worley Street at 12:50 a.m. Saturday and struck a tree on unidentified residential property.

Police reported Howe's auto severely damaged and cited Howe for reckless operation.

A car driven by David E. Flagg, 18, of 425 E. Court St., was moderately damaged when Flagg lost control while turning off Hinde Street into the Midland parking lot-alley and struck a cement retaining wall.

Flagg was charged with driving without an operator's license and reckless operation.

Nixon said doing well

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) -Former President Richard M. Nixon continues to improve, and his doctors say they are going to resume the anticoagulation therapy that made him prone to bleeding and sent him into shock following surgery.

Dr. John C. Lungren, Nixon's personal physician, said in his daily written report Friday that Nixon's physical activity was being increased and that anticoagulation therapy would resume this weekend. Nixon has been off the blood-thinning drugs since internal bleeding sent him into shock following surgery to correct his phlebitis condition.

and Wayne M. Turner, 18, of 438 Highland Ave., police reported.

The mishap occurred on Court Street, 150 feet west of the Fayette Street intersection and Turner was cited by police for improper movement from a parking space.

Damage to both vehicles was moderate.

A car driven by Paula K. Alkire. 20. Hawthorne Drive, struck a car driven by Norma J. Thompson, 32, Ohio 207, at the intersection of North and Court streets when Ms. Alkire backed up to give a turning semi-truck more room.

The mishap occurred at 2:55 p.m. Friday and police estimated damage to the Alkire auto as slight and damage to the Thompson car as moderate.

A hit-skip accident occurred sometime Thursday at the Washington Square Plaza parking lot. Police reported a car belonging to William James of 926 Old Chillicothe Rd., incurred damage to the driver's side Friday, involved cars driven by Dennis when struck by the unidentified driver.

District Court Judge John J. Sirica said he would appoint three doctors by next week to examine Nixon and determine whether he was able to testify at the Watergate coverup trial. Nixon's lawyer has said the former president would be too ill to testify for two or three months.

> That announcement came as Nixon received a hospital-room visit from Imelda Marcos, wife of the president of the Philippines.

She talked to Nixon for a few minutes and said he was very weak and tired but spoke to her "with great determination" and "was very interested in what is going on in the world."

Lungren's report Friday said the pneumonia condition in Nixon's right lung was improving and that there was less fluid in his left lung. But he refused to say whether Nixon had been taken off the serious list.

Brown said he had thought about not running this year. "I have a pretty good retirement setup, but actually I love my work and enjoy every minute of it,

The secretary of state said he didn't have anyone in particular in mind as his possible successor. "I'd like to see some nice fellow that is capable," he

Captain Sticky' battling evildoers

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) -Richard Pesta has stuffed his 350 pounds into a blue jump suit and wrapped it all up in a gold cape. He says the first step toward fighting evil business practices is to call attention to himself.

Sporting a golden S on his chest, a beard on his chin, and gold shoes on his feet, Pesta goes from local television show to local radio program to supermarket openings calling himself "Captain Sticky" and hawking his own Sticky bumper sticker for 50 cents and brand of righteous crusade. He says he's already appeared on 50 TV programs and about 90 radio programs.

"I wanted to come up with a means of communication," he explains. "And what I've decided to use apparently seems more credible to the American public than its own elected officials."

He says two current targets of his speeches are advertising techniques that make consumers feel inadequate, and old age homes that he says abuse their patients.

Pesta's girth and outlandish regalia aren't his only weapons, however. In one recent conversation with a reporter. Pesta was flanked by his lawyer and his own marketing expert. a Captain Sticky T-shirt for $3.50 or Pesta, now 29, says he retired this year from a highly profitable career in the fiberglass business that left him well enough off to live in a luxurious house in Long Beach and devote full time to the crusade.

'Captain Sticky isn't going to get rich," he says.

Nevertheless, his headquarters in Los Angeles is marketing a Captain Sticky comic book for $1, a Captain

$4.50, depending on size.

Pesta's first campaign takes aim at what he says are abuses in some homes for the elderly. Without naming names, he shows pictures of the alleged abuses.

So, he adds, "We'll be advertising for Candy Stripers (volunteer hospital workers) and other people who work in convalescent homes and hospitals to come in and we'll tell them what the

Opening lead — king of clubs.

There are many ways to investigate the possibility of bidding a slam and there is no magic formula that tells you which one to use. Good judgment and common sense are indispensable attributes, and specialized conventions such as Blackwood don't necessarily supply the answer.

Take this deal where South

after the raise to three, as it is possible for even a passed hand to contain the right cards for a slam. He should send out a feeler by bidding four clubs, avoiding the use of Blackwood, which would tell him how many aces partner has without telling him how far to go.

When North cooperates with the slam try by bidding four hearts, South still cannot justifiably bid more than four spades. But when North again shows extra values by cuebidding the ace of diamonds, South should accept the challenge and bid six.

West leads a club and South sees that there are two possible losers, a club and a diamond. Rather than rely on the diamond finesse, which would give him only a 50 per cent chance for the slam, he plans to establish dummy's fifth heart.

After taking the ace of clubs, he plays a heart to the ace and ruffs a heart high. He then enters dummy with a trump and ruffs another heart high. Another trump to dummy followed by a third heart ruff establishes the jack as a trick.

South now plays a diamond to the ace, refusing the finesse, discards his club loser on the jack of hearts, and in that way makes the slam. The only should not simply bid a game he loses is a diamond.

Developments in Anesthesia

Few branches of medicine tried in the United States and have developed so spectacularly as the field of anesthesiology. Once this discipline was casually accepted as being relatively unimportant in the general picture of medicine and surgery.

Today, the science of anesthesiology is considered a dominant factor in the safety of surgery and in uncomplicated recovery.

Researchers are continuing to seek new drugs and devices to further increase the safety of surgery.

Now, a team of doctors at the Necker Hospital in Paris have developed and are using a technique of electro-anesthesia for surgery.

Dr. Maurice Cara and Dr. Christien Debras are using electric current, in conjunction with tranquilizing drugs, for surgical anesthesia.

This procedure seems to be particularly valuable for lengthy operations, especially in patients who are considered to be relatively poor surgical

A new and remarkable substance known as proplast is being tested in experimental animals for the replacement of bone defects.

Proplast does not seem to be rejected by the body after it has been implanted.

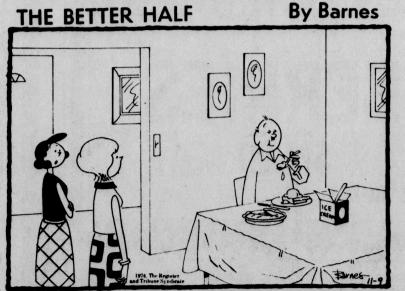

It already has been tried in surgery of the hip, in injuries of the facial bone, and in the reconstruction of the mastoid bone.

Dr. John Shea, of Memphis, Tenn., believes that this substance may yet play a vital role in the newer techniques for stapes surgery in the ear. Stapes surgery is performed for the return of hearing where deafness is caused by a specific bone condition known as otosclerosis.

Escapees captured; wounded

RAVENNA, Ohio (AP)-Portage County sheriff's deputies said two escapees from a Florida federal prison were captured and one was wounded in an exchange of gunfire with a state highway patrolman Friday.

The wounded man, Raymond Kelley, was reported in fair condition at Robinson Memorial Hospital.

Sheriff's deputies said Kelley and John R. Foster, 29, were apprehended after Highway Patrolman Gerald Hunsicker stopped their car for a routine check on Ohio 5, four miles east of Ravenna.

Deputies said Kelley opened fire when Hunsicker approached the car, and Hunsicker returned the fire, hitting Kelley in the side.

Foster ran from the car, deputies said, but was captured after law officers from several departments surrounded the area.

Deputies said charges would be filed against the two Monday.

Metzenbaum won't quit

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Sen. Howard Metzenbaum, D-Ohio, has no plans to resign before the end of his term to give Senator-elect John Glenn a seniority advantage, an aide said Friday.

French, administrative Vick assistant to Metzenbaum, commented on a suggestion by Auditor-elect Thomas Ferguson that the senator resign, clearing the way for Glenn's appointment and giving Glenn "a jump in seniority over the other new senators who will be taking office in January."

Metzenbaum is in Rome for a world food conference. French, reached in Washington, said Metzenbaum stated recently he would not even consider resigning early.

French added that Metzenbaum has not been approached by either Glenn or Gov. John Gilligan about resigning. He said Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield had asked Metzenbaum to stay on at least through the end of the formal session because of several pieces of legislation he has introduced.

School aid formula under fire

formula for state aid to public schools should be replaced by an approach that would guarantee equal state dollars for every dollar of local tax effort, a legislative committee has decided.

The bipartisan Education Review Committee met Friday, facing a Dec. 15 deadline for preparation of a package of recommendations on school financing for the 111th General Assembly.

The present school foundation for-mula has been roundly criticized for failing to provide an equal flow of state dollars to local school districts.

The state money goes to schools on a sliding scale favoring low tax effort districts over high effort areas. As a result, observed State Rep. Marcus Roberto, D-62 Ravenna, "There is no incentive for districts to increase their millage (tax levy)."

The committee has decided to develop a guaranteed equal yield formula whereby the state would match local tax dollars up to a designated ceiling. Districts in high tax

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) - The old base areas would pay a greater local share.

Dr. Robert Goettel, a consultant from the Syracuse University Research Corp., said equal yield would permit local districts to "determine what their millage rates will be" and make the state share "responsive to the local tax.

effort." Under the current system, local districts are assessed a 25 mill chargeoff toward a basic $660 per pupil, with the state paying the rest of the tab.
